HOW LUCK WINS

ANY people wonder why they do not advance more rapidly, why they do not step up the ladder of success as fast as the other person. Many a person holds the same position that he started with for the simple reason that through narrow-mindedness, ignorance and moral cowardice he was afraid to teach some one else how to hold down his job; consequently, when the job higher up was open, he didn’t get it, because the boss had no one to take his place.

Overlook a man’s weaknesses, forget his mistakes and speak to him of his good qualities. Instead of finding fault with his “badness,” praise his “goodness.” Then note how that man will strive with all his might to live up to the good opinion which you have of him.

Oh, yes, we believe in luck. Every man who holds a big job gets there through luck. All he has to do is cultivate a pleasing personality; make himself well liked by others, sow seeds of kindness and good cheer wherever he goes; perform his work better than the “unlucky” man does; tender the most and best service possible, regardless of the salary he is getting. Luck does the rest. She is constantly shaking the dice, changing places with the weak and the strong, the rich and the poor, the happy and the miserable, which leads one to wonder if it is not a good policy to treat kindly the most lowly laborer, for he may be the man from whom we will have to take orders tomorrow.

FIRE PREVENTION

AGAIN this month we observe Fire Prevention Week from October 9th to 15th as a reminder that we should do our part in reducing fire hazards. We are a very careless people and we cause millions of dollars worth of property damage and the loss of thousands of lives unnecessarily. Most of this loss in life and property could be avoided if we were more careful of lighted matches and cigarettes. Railroad employees especially can do much to help in fire prevention by keeping the property free of inflammable materials.

• Cultivate good habits, and you’ll find that they are just as hard to break as bad ones.

THE REAL RAIL PROBLEM

PEOPLE in recent months have been trying to put a finger on the answer to the so-called railroad problem. That’s fine. We welcome it. All this is a healthy sign that people are coming to recognize the railroads’ problems as their problems—part of an unsolved national problem of transportation. But by way of keeping the discussion on the track, we’d like to point out a few things which the railroad problem is not. It is not failure of service. Freight moves faster than ever before. Freight schedules are more dependable. Freight rates are the lowest offered by any railroads in the world. Passenger schedules are faster. Passengers ride in air-conditioned comfort—and fares are below the pre-war level. It is not failure to keep pace with progress.

Engineering advances in locomotives, to take just one example, have produced a notable step-up in power and speed—and an economy of operation which produces the power to haul a ton a mile with a glass of water and a handful of coal. It is not lack of watchfulness for sound economies.

The serviceable life of cross ties, for instance, has been multiplied by three in the past twenty years by improved methods of treating timber—and this, plus improved metallurgy and better methods of track construction and maintenance, has increased safety and still saved $1,000,000 a day. Another $50,000,000 a year has been saved by softening the water used for steam. It is not an increasing burden of debt.

The proportion of stocks and bonds and equipment notes in relation to total investment is far less today than it was in the most prosperous periods in railroad history. It is not “watered stock.” The amount of railroad stocks and bonds outstanding is billions of dollars less than the investment in railroad property.

No, the real railroad problem is none of these. It is due, at bottom, to the fact that railroads must operate under rigid regulations based on a fifty-year-old theory that they have a monopoly in transportation—and compete with three other forms of transportation subsidized or helped by tax money.

In the interests of straight-thinking, the American railroads have prepared a concise and clear-cut program for a public transportation policy. What it adds up to is this:

All the railroads need is an opportunity to run their business as a business, on a fair business basis—with reasonable freedom to "price" the only product they have, which is transportation service—greater freedom to adjust their rates to meet competition—and to adjust their expenses to the conditions of their business.
READERS of the Erie Railroad Magazine have had a leading part in perpetuating the name and fame of Casey Jones, most renowned of all those locomotive engineers who have died at the post of duty. Thanks largely to their interest, a monument to Casey is to be erected shortly on the main highway near his birthplace at Cayce, Kentucky.

Five years ago the Erie Railroad Magazine gathered up the real story of Casey's life and death, as told by his widow, who still lives in Jackson, Tenn. The article was reprinted in magazines and newspapers all over the world and brought a stream of letters which has kept increasing through the years. Hundreds of correspondents sent in various versions of the Casey Jones song, not only in English, but in French, German, and even in the language of the native laborers on the South African railways.

A few months ago the citizens of Cayce, Ky., invited the Erie Railroad Magazine to be present at a banquet, where they proposed to raise money for a permanent monument to their hero. The monument fund got off to a good start, and plans for its erection are now being pushed forward.

They raised $200 toward the memorial that will convince all who view it that one, John Luther Jones, known as "Casey," was no legendary figure, but a real man of flesh and blood.

A former co-worker of the engineer contributed a picture of the Cannonball locomotive, "Old 382, the pride of the Southern rails," in which Jones died with his hand on the throttle. The picture will be engraved on the monument.

Cayce is mighty proud of being the brave engineer's home town, and prouder still that it gave Casey his nickname. (His real name was John Luther Jones, but throughout his railroad career he was affectionately known by the name of the little hamlet where he lived.)

The principal speaker at the Cayce banquet was Casey Jones' widow. Another notable guest was Sim Webb, who was Casey's fireman the night of the wreck and who heeded Casey's advice to jump. He still walks with a limp, as a result of ankle injuries received when he jumped. Still another guest was Sid Law, now safety director of the Illinois Central, who was the fireman on Casey's regular run. (The wreck occurred on an extra run when Casey substituted for a friend who was sick).

Many of the people at the banquet had known Casey personally, and told anecdotes of him. They recalled that he was no ordinary man. He was big—six feet four, and handsome. And when he was riding an engine, the locomotive would perform some very extraordinary feats.

Mrs. Casey told at the banquet how the first thing Casey did when he got his engineer's job in 1890 was to develop his own special whistle. It was a long low mournful sound, and when people heard it they'd say, "There goes Casey". As the poem says, "All the people knew by the engine's moans that the man at the throttle was Casey Jones."

The familiar strains of the ballad "Casey Jones," which have endured since the turn of the century, threw into relief the success story that Jones actually lived. It also contained some historical inaccuracies that railroad men, who revere the song, have never countenanced.

Neither Jones' widow, now living at Jackson, Tenn., where his body is buried, nor his Negro fireman, Sim Webb, who lives in Memphis, have much patience with parodies or divergencies from the actual facts.

There were a lot of stories told that night, about how the song originated, and the stories were not all in agreement. But it seemed fairly certain that some Southern darky singers, who had known and loved Casey and his heroes, just started humming, filling in words as darkies do, and that later a team of vaudeville trouopers jazzed up the tune and made it a nationwide hit about 1909. Today it is part of the immortal folklore of the world.

There are many variations in verse of the story of Casey Jones. One of these, the mid-west version runs as follows:

Casey Jones was engine;
Told his fireman not to fear;
All he wanted was boiler hot;
Run in Canton 'bout four o'clock.

One Sunday mornin' it was drizzlin' rain,
Looked down de road an' saw a train.
Fireman says, "Let's make a jump;
Two locomotives an' dey bound to bump."

Casey Jones, I know him well,
Tol' de fireman to ring de bell;
Fireman jump an' say "Good-bye,
Casey Jones, you're bound to die."

Womens in Kansas all dressed in red,
Got de news dat Casey was dead,
Womens in Kansas all dressed in black,
Said, in fact, he was a crackerjack.

FANNIE READ AUCTION ROMANTIC

Another chapter in the romantic mystery of the old American Hotel, famed landmark beside the Erie tracks at Hancock, N. Y., and its eccentric occupant for 70 years, Fannie Read, was written Aug. 20th when furnishings and personal belongings were sold at public auction which attracted several thousand from near and far. Included in the sale were oil lamps which Miss Read kept burning at the window for her soldier-sweetheart while she lived as a recluse in the 44-room hotel from Civil War days until her death in a Binghamton hospital Jan. 18, 1932 in her 90th year.

Eighty years ago the old hotel became the scene of a strangely tragic love story which resulted in the protracted vigil. Miss Fannie's devotion to a long vanished lover has been an epic of the Catskill foothills for more than half a century. Her constancy was a legend. The lamp that she lit every night in the lower windows shone up to eight years ago.

In 1860, Fannie Read was the laughing bright-eyed 18-year-old belle of Hancock, flourishing town founded by her Scotch-Irish ancestors. Along came dashing Lieut. John Bellows, an army officer who took up quarters temporarily in the hotel. Fannie and John fell ardently in love, but her father frowned on the match.

Bellows was too old, said Papa Riley Read. Fannie was too young. The father ordered his daughter to have no more to do with the soldier. But the young folks contrived secret meetings, which eventually came to the landlord's ears. Forthwith, in a white-hot rage, he had it out with Bellows, commanding him to leave the hotel and the town. Unlike the heroes of fiction, Bellows took the irate father's orders. He never returned.

But the heart-broken girl never gave up hope. She left the house only twice to attend funerals and the hotel eventually failed. Her father moved away but Fannie remained for her lover, anxiously hoping he might return. At night, she used to draw the faded window curtains aside many times to watch the Erie trains pass by, just across the narrow street. For many years her meals were provided by a tray service from a hotel across the street and Fannie shared them with rats and mice, her sole companions. She wanted no other company.

Her nephew, Judge Howard M. Read, respected her wishes and those of her father caring for her through her last years. Eight years ago she became so feeble that she was removed to a hospital. The old tavern's unique facade dates back to 1825. The building was rebuilt in 1856 and again in 1888. On account of its odd architecture and commanding position, it has long been an object of curiosity, admiration and wonderment to visitors. Distinguished guests at the hotel were Jay Gould and Horace Greeley. At the auction Jay Gould's map of Delaware county brought $750.

BETTINGER DEALERS SEE COAL MINED

Eighty Bettinger coal dealers from Buffalo headed by Joseph M. Bettinger, president of the Bettinger Coal & Coke Corporation, enjoyed a tour of the mines in the Scranton area as guests of the Hudson Coal Co., last July 27th and wound up their activities at a clam bake and chicken dinner on Rozers Farm. The trip was made over the Erie and D. & H. in four private Pullmans and a diner personally supervised by John A. Dolan, general agent, passenger department, and John T. McIntee, assistant general freight agent of the Erie at Buffalo.

Enroute to Scranton a brief stop was made at Hornell to greet Jerry Griffin, general manager of the Hornell Coal Co., part of the Bettinger system. At Scranton Herb Shaver headed a group from the Hudson Coal Co., to escort the visitors to buses provided by Jack Reese for a run to the Casey Hotel for breakfast. After seeing the coal made from mine run to domestic and steam sizes at the Marvin breaker and viewing the pumping station at Jermyn the group lunched at Carbondale where they were joined by Ben Fillmore, vice president and general sales manager, and Herb Shaver, of the Hudson Co., who complimented Joe Bettinger for his splendid organization and praised him as a leader. Mr. Bettinger gave thanks for the fine hospitality and the caravan rolled on to Olyphant and went down the shaft to see the mining details. At the farm, twelve miles from Scranton the crowd relaxed (Continued on page 34).

BUSINESS GETTERS RESUME ACTIVITIES

EMPLOYEES engaged in the voluntary traffic solicitation campaign resumed their activities after the summer lull last month and returns from the meetings received thus far show considerable improvement. This pick-up was a continuation of the increases in freight and passenger traffic for the preceding month as shown in the accompanying table for the system.

The business-getters secured 1,485 passengers, 1,383 carloads of freight and 5,442 less-carload shipments. Of this amount New York division solicitors reported having secured 326 carloads of freight, 1,568 less-carload shipments and 719 passengers.

In the Western District business solicitation contest C. H. Lepp, agent-operator at Falconer, N.Y., was leading Sept. 1, with 1,042 points, according to the accompanying table of standings on that date. Final results of the contest which came to a close on Oct. 1st will not be known for another ten days and will be published in the November magazine. The Hon. F. W. Harrington, agent and mayor of Alger, O., was second in the list of twelve highest contestants with a score of 848 points and Miss Mildred Tillotson, comptometer operator at Corry, Pa., occupied sixth place with a total of 577 points.

At the east end of the railroad E. W. Maxwell, third trick operator at Graham junction tower has been commended by Supt. Kline for succeeding, through the purchase of two automobiles from a dealer in inducing him to route several carloads of automobiles via the Erie.

More and more every man working for the railroad from the highest paid to the track walker regards himself as an active salesman of his company's product—transportation, fully realizing that the more he obtains the more secure will be his own job and that of his fellow workers.

Engineering Changes

O. V. Derr, general office engineer and valuation engineer of the Erie's engineering department at Cleveland, resigned Sept. 1 to go into private business and the position was abolished. All correspondence relating to valuation matters should be addressed to R. C. Falconer, assistant vice president, Cleveland, and all matters relating to accounting should be addressed to J. W. Smith, principal assistant engineer, Cleveland.

In Charge of Air Conditioning

William P. Shotwell has been appointed supervisor of air conditioning and lighting, reporting to the superintendent of car department at Cleveland and headquarters at Susquehanna. Mr. Shotwell will be responsible for the proper functioning and maintenance of air conditioning equipment and car lighting and also for the overhauling of this equipment while cars are going through shops. He will also issue necessary instructions pertaining to these matters direct to the Division Car Foreman, General Foreman Car Repairs at Jersey City, Shop Superintendent at Susquehanna and the various local supervisors and maintainers of this equipment.

All failures of this equipment are to be reported direct to Superintendent of Car Department at Cleveland as at present, with a copy to Mr. Shotwell at Susquehanna. The Supervisors of Car Repairs, Supervisors of Electric Repairs, General Air Brake Inspector and the Supervisors of Air Brakes, and all others who have been taking an active part in maintenance of this equipment will continue to do so as in the past so as to render the utmost co-operation in this work.

Reunion of Jungle Rails

The Madera-Mamore Association, John Y. Bayliss, Richmond, Virginia, President, and Edgar A. Smith, Newportville, Pennsylvania, Secretary, has been recently organized. The Association is a grouping of the men who, during 1907-1913, built the Madera-Mamore railroad through two hundred miles of jungles in central-western Brazil, around navigation-obstruction rapids in the Maderia river, from Porto Velho, Amazonas, to the Bolivian frontier.

A limited survey indicates many of these old-timers are active in domestic transportation units, and the association is desirous of locating as many as possible for a reunion during the Worlds Fair.

Employee Magazine Editors Meet

Chief executives of many of the nation's largest railroad systems and other leaders in shipping, travel and industry, will gather at a unique event to be staged by the American Railway Magazine Editors Association in Chicago October 15. It will be the sixteenth annual dinner of the editors' group in charge of employees' publications on the major railroads.

Among unusual features of the program, centered about the achievements of modern railroad ing in the United States, will be the continuous operation of a 1500-foot model railroad system, complete in all mechanical details. Practically all the leading systems will be represented by magazine displays, banners and advertising, and an exhibit will show the latest devices used in railroad passenger, freight and express service.

Succeeds W. B. Hammer

Veteran Engineer John J. Reilly, who is also Mayor of Waldwick, N. J., has been elected chairman of the general committee of adjustment of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for the Erie system to succeed the late W. B. Hammer. Mr. Reilly who is serving his seventh year as Mayor is also a member of the Jersey City chapter of the Erie veterans.

Attention Male Singers

Vanstan Lee of the Erie's Legal Department, who is secretary of the famous Orpheus Male Chorus of Cleveland, announces that the Chorus is looking for new members. Auditions will be held by Dr. Charles D. Davie, Director, at radio station WTAM in the N.B.C. Building, Cleveland, Monday evenings at 7 o'clock. Mr. Lee will be glad to assist applicants. He is the only Erie employee in the Chorus and would like to increase their representation. He says that membership in this distinguished musical organization, which has never been defeated in national or international competition, affords varied experience and unusual opportunities.

Mr. Lee also reports that the Chorus has been invited to go to Wales next summer as the solo choir at the National Welsh Eisteddfod, broadcast from the London Studios of the British Broadcasting Company, and make a concert tour of the British Isles, including a concert at famous Queens Hall, London. The local session, likewise, promises to be a very active one, including the annual Spring concert here, probably on February 28th.

Dr. Dawe returns to Wales next summer as Adjudicator at the National Welsh Eisteddfod and hopes to take the solo section of the Chorus with him.

Clammbake for General Offices

Employees in the "Unit Organization" representing combined offices at Cleveland headquarters, held a Clammbake at Chagrin Harbor Sunday, September 18th. The feature event was the ball game carded on account of rain in the fourth inning with the score tied, 32 and 32. Teams were managed by Messrs. Seise and Straut. Umpires were H. R. Cole and P. L. Maguire.

Prizes in the "Pull-a-ball" game for ladies were won by Mrs. Carl Knell, Miss Betty Spencer and Miss E. Hemes. Successful winners in the egg tossing contest were Garry White and Byron Pierce.

The junior members of the Speer, Seise, Frank, Blauvelt and Tanis families had to be rescued when their row-boat became stuck on a sandbar.

Candid camera men Comeau and Duffy claim to have taken some good "shots".

There is talk that it will be an annual event.

John Cooke Broadus

John Cooke Broadus, 76, chief clerk in the Erie's engineering department at Cleveland general offices, retired last month and he and Mrs. Broadus left their home at 1431 Rosewood avenue, Lakewood, Ohio, for the home of one of their three children, Mrs. Francis Atkinson at Baton Rouge, La. Mr. Broadus had been in railroad service 57 years, 35 of which he passed with the Erie. Before Mr. Broadus left about 100 from the general offices assembled in the office of C. H. Splitskreme, superintendent of construction, and presented him with an easy chair and a radio as tokens of their esteem and best wishes. With them was a book designed by Clarence Knight containing the signatures of his co-workers, friends and associates.

The Broadus' other children are Mrs. Russel James of Chicago and Sydnor Broadus of Monroe, Mich. On April 11 Mr. and Mrs. Broadus observed their 50th wedding anniversary.

Rail Women Play Cards

On Oct. 5th the Railway Business Women's Association of Cleveland will hold its semi-annual meeting in the Booth Memorial Home, 1881 Torbenson Drive and on Oct. 15th the annual card party to raise funds for the year's welfare work will take place in Halle Bros., tea room. Miss Carmelita Dixon announces that classes have been resumed in photography, public speaking, diction, handicraft and cooking.

Veteran Teacher Dies

Daniel E. Carpenter, vice president of the International Textbook Co., and dean of the International Correspondence Schools who was widely known among a large number of members of the Erie family, died Sept. 7 at his home in Scranton, Pa. He attended Mansfield State Teachers College and taught school at Jackson and Lanesboro, Pa.
Mentally Lazy

Men engaged in train and yard service where the accident hazard on the railroad is greatest must ever be on the alert; they must be using their heads, thinking, to avoid accident.

"A thinker, or successful mind worker," says Safety Superintendent Waaker of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, is alway willing to be shown when he is wrong, for the reason that he searches for facts. If he has missed any facts he has not reached his objective. Those who do not search out the facts, and let others do their thinking for them, are annoyed when others do not immediately agree with them; they will not reason and often resort to violence to acquire what they want. Among the mentally lazy are those:

Who despise to read or write.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.—Emerson.

Who shift responsibility to others by not giving attention to acts they are responsible for.

Who do not read carefully instructions affecting their duties.

In the latter class are men who, in the operation of trains, have been known to evade the reading of such important instructions as train orders and checking time table schedules, and who do not have any system of periodically reading rules to refresh their memory.

Safety Never Finished

At least four reasons why safety is never finished are apparent:

1. New employees must be taught the best method, and established rules and practices for doing the work.

2. Employees transferred from one job to another must learn safe methods on the new job.

3. Even experienced operators must be constantly reminded to keep safety in mind.
4. New equipment and new processes are constantly being added, and old or new employees must keep up-to-date.

Safety Grams

Compensation does not relieve pain.
Safety saves sickness, suffering and sorrow.
Make Safety and vigilance your watchwords.
Success is impossible if you are careless and invite injury.
It is much better to prepare and prevent than to repair and repent.
Hurry when there's need but hurry safely.

To Analyze Accidents

More than 10,000 men and women from all over the world will assemble in the Stevens Hotel October 10-14 as delegates to the National Safety Council's Silver Jubilee Safety Congress and Exposition. The Congress will celebrate the Council's 25 years of accident fighting.
With a panel of more than 500 chairman, speakers and discussion leaders, the Congress will take accidents apart in an effort to find out why they took 106,000 lives last year in the United States and drained more than three and a half million dollars from the American pocketbook. All kinds of accidents—industrial, traffic, home and public—will come under the scrutiny of the delegates. Of increasing importance this year because of the 39,500 lives lost in traffic accidents in 1937—an all-time high—will be the sessions of the Street and Highway Traffic Section.

Good Reasons for Safety

My eyes are priceless and I practice Safety First to preserve them, because, once gone, always gone.
Without an eye life would be miserable and burdensome.
I realize too, what it would mean to be without an arm or a leg. I want to be an asset and not a liability; I want to be esteemed and not pitied and forsaken; I want to enjoy the full possession of all my faculties. I am interested in my future and in the future of my family. To accomplish these things I must practice Safety First.

I grow old learning something new every day.—Solon.

When the fight begins within himself a man's worth something.

Henry Miller, contract drayman of Passaic and Dundee, accompanied by several friends including Leo Boner, foreman at Passaic, spent several hours deep sea fishing Sunday, Sept. 4th. Leo landed a forty-foot Tuna and now declares he will abandon golf and spend his time fishing for the big fellows.

PATERSON FREIGHT STATION

Thomas L. Furman, car clerk, spent the Labor Day week-end visiting someone, we know not whom, at Parkersburg, W. Va.

Jesse Boulware, student clerk, was recently released from the Wessington Red Skin's football team, the coach claiming he had no need for toe stubbers.

Who was the railroad detective who enjoyed his vacation finding out what a woman's work at home consists of? Boy, is he trained?

Mrs. Loreta Driscoll of the local Revision Bureau has, since returning from her vacation, been seen frequently at a certain riding academy. We wonder if this is being done as a weight reducer; if so, we recommend that the other two girls employees in this office take note.

Michael J. McGill, cashier, spent his vacation over-seeing the activities at the World's Fair grounds.

Stephan A. Hering, chief clerk in the local Revision Bureau, has been suffering from severe rheumatic pains. We are glad to report that he is considerably improved and is now working with his usual vigor.

NEWARK FREIGHT STATION

W. J. Sullivan, Yard Conductor and family, spent his vacation visiting relatives at New Market, N. H.

Smiling Bill Wallinhuap, maintainers helper, is again back in Newark territory. Glad to see Bill back.

Congratulations are being extended to Will Hisson, yard engineer, upon his recent marriage. Bill spent his honeymoon at Atlantic City.

Custers Last Stand had nothing on a certain Ford owned by someone at this station.

JERSEY CITY FREIGHT CAR

Mrs. Pauline Hoppe, wife of Frederick Hoppe, car inspector, at Croxton Yard, passed away at her residence on August 29th, after a brief illness. Mrs. Hoppe is survived by her husband, Frederick and son, Harry Frederick. All of Mr. Hoppe's fellow employees extend their deepest sympathy in his hour of bereavement.

Jos. E. Murphy and wife have just returned from having enjoyed a very enjoyable vacation, at Mr. Murphy's family residence at Susquehanna, Pa.

Oh! Yes, we almost forgot to mention that Harold Green and wife have returned from an extended trip through Maine and thence to Greenport, N. Y., where Harold says that he caught so many fish that he was feeding the townspeople. Boy, oh boy, anyone who can surpass Harold in telling fish yarns will have to get up early in the morning. Eh! Harold?

William Hoefling, air-brake test man at Pen Horn shop, has returned from a trip to the Catskills, where Bill says it's so cold, that the water freezes in the pipes.

Wm. Brazel, has returned from an enjoyable vacation at that great summer resort, Seaside Heights, New Jersey. Bill reports that the mosquitoes were so big, that they would crowd you off the boardwalk, and that the Merry-Go-Rounds are still playing the same times as last year.

Herman Miller, ass't. chief clerk, is enjoying the September breezes on the beach at Manasquan, N. J.

DUANE STREET STATION

We were very sorry to hear of the recent death of Henry Aron, U. S. Customs Inspector who occupied desk space in this office.

Several Duane Street employees attended the veterans outing at Blasberg's Farm Sept. 4th, and all report having had an enjoyable day.

Winding up the 1938 vacations, we have George Tegtmeyer back on the job. We have been unable to determine where or how he spent his vacation but rumor has it that the old town was wearing a bright new coat of red after George's two weeks were up.

Mel Green has been scouting about, organizing his bowling team for the 1938-1939 season and says there is no question as to who will walk off with the honors this year. Mel claims his most dangerous opposition lies in the girls team at Duane Street and we think he has something to worry about there, judging from past performances.

President Findlay's Letter

To All Veteran Members:

Upon arriving at Hornell, on Friday, Sept. 2nd, I was agreeably surprised by the greeting I received from the delegation of members of Hornell Chapter, headed by Chairman E. F. Creagh, who escorted me to Hotel Sherwood, where we joined the others of the Election Committee.

The Election Committee consisting of Veterans F. J. Troyano, J. J. Heavey and F. E. Burkhardt representing the General Office, Huntington and Meadville Chapters, respectively, together with General Secretary J. R. Ward and Chairman E. F. Creagh, immediately went into session, General Secretary Ward delivering to us all of the ballots that had been forwarded to him by mail. The envelopes were opened, ballots were removed, inspected and tabulated. It was found on completion of the tabulation that Veteran B. J. Markwell of the General Office, had been elected Secretary of this committee that this method of voting assured all paid up members the opportunity to vote for their respective choice of officers and it was the largest vote ever cast by members of our Association. All Chapter chairman and secretaries have been notified of the results of the election. It was the consensus of opinion of this committee that this method of voting assured all paid up members the opportunity to vote for their respective choice of officers and it was the largest vote ever cast by members of our Association. All Chapter chairman and secretaries have been notified of the results of the election.

It was also my pleasure to visit the famous Erie Veterans room in the Hornell station building, making the acquaintance of a number of members and also viewing the new Safety Plaque, designed by Chairman H. A. Daake on display there.

Vice President J. J. Heavey, who was enroute to New York for a tour of Ireland and other points of interest in the Old World, received the best wishes of his many friends for a pleasant trip and a safe return to our shores.

Congratulations are in order to our newly elected Second Vice President B. J. Markwell, who I am sure will continue to carry on, advancing new ideas for the welfare of our Association and the enlargement of our membership rolls.

Fraternally yours,

J. R. Findlay, President.

Vets Elect Officers

Election of general officers of the Erie Railroad Veterans association usually conducted at the annual outing was carried out by mail this year because the outing was not held.

The only contest was for second vice president and resulted in the election of B. J. Markwell of Cleveland general offices. He received 559 votes, F. M. Waid of Hornell 246 and H. A. Daake of Huntington, Ind., 159.

J. J. Heavey, retired safety supervisor of Huntington, Ind., was automatically advanced to president and D. R. Horrigan of Susquehanna succeeded him as first vice president.

Others elected were: General Secretary J. R. Ward of Dummore; Asst. General Secretary, F. J. Troyano of Cleveland and Treasurer, R. G. Lewis of Sharon, Pa.

General Office Chapter

By W. F. Wider

We are very pleased by B. J. Markwell, our past chairman, who has been elected second vice-president of the Erie Railroad Veterans. He surely has worked for this honor and we believe the best man won.

Our chapter has a pledge of 100 new members this year. We now have 96 new members with three months to go. The following are the new members this month: T. L. Geary, Miss D. Kreiger, C. H. Duis, H. N. Fager, J. S. Braun, J. W. Anderson, Miss G. Hume, C. Strauss, H. Johnson, W. J. Symington, H. Symington, H. D. Meck, T. Irving, P. Meyer, R. T. Penny.

Our picnic on the Mahoning division was a success.

The ball game between the Youngstown chapter and General Office chapter was won by the Youngstown chapter 18 to 4. The pitcher of the Youngstown team had everything on the ball and we all say the best man won.

Score by innings follows:

Youngstown... 3 0 2 1 3
General Office... 0 0 0 0 2-4
The following bowlers of our chapter have entered a team in the Erie down-town league at Cleveland: Veterans Markwell, Crawford, Leaman, Swanstrom, Malone, Manning and Captain Wider. They will be known as the “Veterans” and a good showing is expected from them.

Buffalo Chapter

By Dave Huff

The news letter from Buffalo Chapter published in the September issue of the Magazine was received with a great deal of satisfaction, not for its perfection but because our members were glad to learn that “Old Man Neglect” had left Buffalo and has not returned.

October has come and this brings to mind that intensely interesting event generally known as “Hallowe’en.” To the older generation this was called “Cabbage Stump Night.” It not only brings to mind the “Bogey Man” and the “Fairies” but also the many, many thousands of cabbage stumps which flew thick and fast and decorated the doorways, even the doorways of those who were held in high esteem and neighborly affection. Done in fun it put every “gang” on the run and especially when someone opened the door and bellowed, “What are you boys trying to do around here!”

Old Man Winter will soon arrive. Ordinarily, we are inclined to accept him as an unwelcome guest. To members of Buffalo Chapter, his arrival marks the season of interesting chapter meetings and social affairs. We enjoy these events immensely and after each gathering we begin to look forward to the next meeting or social event.

We enjoyed reading President Findlay’s letter in the September issue of the Magazine. He is confident that all of us are benefited if every Chapter meets regularly.

Another Labor Day holiday is past and most of the boys spent their time out of town. J. Small returned from Youngstown, looking a bit tired. Doing a little investigating, we found out Smally had been doing some strenuous bike riding, preparing himself for the coming six-day bike race at Madison Square Garden. Mr. Muller and family spent their time visiting relatives up at Dumont Manor. Tom McLaughlin and his wife were the guests of Paul Emiliano on his motor boat, cruising the south shore points. John (German Carpenter) Elia helped his wife with the fall cleaning.

Mike (Flat Foot Flugie) Perzon returned from the mountains. Joe Horvath spent his usual week-end up at Goshen teaching the girls the Lambeth Walk the new dance craze. Roger Mathews just completed his new shanty on Pier 67. Trouble he has been having with his hay fever cause the boys to think a few more good sneezes and his shanty will be blown into the river. John (Tarzan) Krauss put in a lot of time studying over the holidays for the coming civil service tests to become one of New York’s policemen. We all wish John the best of luck. Frank Rechardt, better known as Bumby to the boys, is wearing a new sweater he claims his wife made him.

YOUNGSTOWN FREIGHT

R. S. Clark, former division clerk, spent a few days visiting in Youngstown. He is feeling fine, enjoying himself to the utmost and expects to spend another year traveling. We were all glad to see him again.

J. H. Blair, janitor, and wife are visiting Mr. Blair's brother in Fresno, Calif. The brothers have not seen each other for twenty years.

Mrs. C. C. Peters, wife of our warehouse foreman, has been ill for past several months with an infected bone finger, and after having two operations on the bone, still shows very little improvement. We extend our best wishes to her for a successful recovery.

August 30th, employees of Youngstown freight enjoyed a weiner and corn roast at Shady-side Pavilion, Waddell Park, Niles, and spent the remainder of the evening at the home of Miss Catherine Hunyady. Singing and what goes with it was the diversion of the evening, music being furnished by T. G. Swogger.

A committee composed of R. P. Reebel, Catherine Hunyady and Arthur Hopwood have revised and amended the rules governing the expenditures of the Flower Fund of this office.

Recently the walls in the Cashier's office were being cleaned, and Friend Coe Chaffee tried to keep them from being cleaned again because Coe sat down in some water.

For part time vacation activities J. Ralph Fero, accountant, and Mrs. Fero spent several days in New York City; C. R. Stewart, rate clerk, and Mrs. Stewart visited in Lima; T. G. Swogger, loss and damage inspector, and family visited in New York City; Miss Lila Russell, joint tonnage clerk, with Ernest Russell and William Sturdy motored to Middleport, O., visiting relatives and friends; Miss Mary McCabe, report clerk, and mother visited friends in Detroit; Miss Jane Morgan, comptometer operator, went to Detroit also; Miss Edna Kelly, chief car clerk, J. Rube Smith and family (of Smith Transfer Co.) are vacationing in North Bay, Canada.

Max Hart of the Consolidated Freight Handling is making head-lines in the Youngstown Vindicator. His mashie and driver have been good golf pals, and notwithstanding the favorable publicity he still speaks to us.

The "Wildcats" (Warehouse ball team) are finishing strong. They've only had their "ears pinned back" a few times, which makes them fight all the more. Keep up the good game, boys.

The solicitation contest sponsored by F. W. Rosser, general manager, has created much enthusiasm among the employees and our folks have been very ardent competitors. Several of our fellow workers are near the top of the list, and here's hoping that with the close of this month we will find a few of them actually on top.

The Youngstown Erie Bowling League have been hard at work in the printing of tickets and sponsoring a baseball pool semi-monthly to help accumulate money towards expenditures to be incurred when enroute to Cleveland for the A. B. C. Bowling Tournament this fall. The Youngstown Erie Bowling League will bowl the same night as the other leagues in the ABC Tournament. Erie Night in this tournament should be exciting and no doubt will be a place for many old friends to meet again.

Fine Tributes to Veteran Ticket Agent S. E. Leet

Tributes to Sherman E. Leet, who has retired after 63 years with the Erie, 45 of which were spent in Warren, O., as passenger agent, are still being received by this "grand old man of the Erie." One of these, in the Youngstown Tribune-Chronicle recalls how Mr. Leet through his efficient and courteous service won his way into the hearts of thousands of railroad patrons.

"Thousands of Warren and Trumbull county residents," the paper added, "recall the days when he has gone out of his way to give advice and assistance to them. The Erie probably never had a more faithful employe. . . . Throughout his long period of service Mr. Leet has correctly interpreted the duties of a good railroad agent - that he who serves his company well serves the public well. A genial personality and an ever accommodating manner have made Mr. Leet popular with the traveling public, which will miss his familiar face at the Erie station.

Mr. Leet began with the Erie in 1873 as a telegraph operator at W. Austintown. A year later he became passenger agent at Canfield. The ensuing few years found him agent at Lisbon and Girard before he went to Warren in 1893. Mr. Leet's ancestors came from Connecticut to settle in the Western Reserve.

In his long service Mr. Leet booked passengers for all parts of the world but the longest trip he ever arranged was for a Leavittsburg man who went to Australia. When Leet joined the Erie many coaches were lighted by candle. He says he has enjoyed the varied contacts he has made and he hopes to continue many of them through activities in Warren as travel agent, arranging tours, Atlantic trips and cruises. "I want to remain a member of the Erie family," he says.

Mr. Leet has been succeeded by R. S. Gettig, ticket clerk at Warren for twelve years, who has also served in Cleveland and Youngstown.

W. J. Sheldon has been assigned to a position at the East Buffalo office.

The many friends and former freight office associates of Mrs. J. J. Smith, wife of the asst. agent and yardmaster at Black Rock and of Mrs. B. F. Conway, sympathize with them in the loss of their mother, Mrs. Delia R. Kennedy, at Elmira.

Sympathy is extended to the families of Arthur Beatty and Earl Roll in their recent bereavement.

Vice President R. E. Woodruff, was guest of honor at the Central Railway Club meeting at Hotel Statler Sept. 8th. It was known as Young Men's Night. Mr. Woodruff said that "men are the important thing on Railroads, and that when we hire young men we look for leaders." Mr. Woodruff is a past president of the Club. A buffet lunch was served.

Richard Schwab, stenographer, who is a member of the 106th Field Artillery, National Guard, won first prize in the shooting contest and was given a medal. We always knew that Dick was some kind of a shooter.

Joe Sieg attended the Erie county fair at Hamburg again this year. Nice fair, Joe.

DOC PEARCE POPULAR
CONDUCTOR MAKES LAST RUN

Conductor Charles Henry Pearce, one of the oldest and most popular employees of the New York Division, and for many years conductor on the Erie Limited, retired from active service last August first, after completing 46 years of faithful and efficient service. "Doc", as he is familiarly called by his fellow workers, was last assigned to Nos. 7 and 6 from Jersey City and Port Jervis.

Mr. Pearce is a native of Pennsylvania, having been born in Waymart, on Nov. 11th, 1872, and received his education in both the grade and high schools of that place. He started his railroad career when only a boy of 15 on the old D & H gravity railroad.

Later Mr. Pearce went to Port Jervis, where he joined the Erie on Oct. 23rd 1892, as a brakeman. Later he became a freight conductor. G. W. Dow was the trainmaster. In 1916 he was promoted from freight to passenger conductor with a regular run.

Doc Pearce has had many and varied incidents in his long railroad career that he likes to relate. He believes his greatest thrill, as he recalls it, was at an old siding known as "White Bridge". They had switched to let the evening passenger trains through and while there, a sleet and ice storm broke. The engineer was G. W. Brown on Engine 742 and Conductor M. H. Dwyer was in charge. Starting out again from the siding with the old type foreign stock cars and going down a very steep grade, Doc endeavored to apply the hand brakes in use at that time, only to find to his surprise that all had frozen up. Tired from active service last August 23rd, at Dunmore,

Starting out again from the siding with the old type foreign stock cars and going down a very steep grade, Doc endeavored to apply the hand brakes in use at that time, only to find to his surprise that all had frozen up. After expending much physical energy and almost exhausted he finally brought the train to a stop and found himself 23 cars from the engine.

Doc often recalls that it was quite an assignment to take a coal train over the Erie in those days and there were very few accidents, taking all into consideration. His proudest moment he believes was when he was assigned to the Erie Limited as conductor on its first run from Jersey City. He felt highly elated and proud that he had been selected for this important post.

Mr. Pearce has always been well thought of by his superiors and fellow workers, and all trust that he may live long to enjoy the leisure and rest to which he is so duly entitled.

The weary and haggard clerk had been kept busy so long by an important customer that eventually he demanded:

"Madam, are you shopping here?"

"Certainly!" retorted the lady. "Oh," went on the clerk, "I just thought you might be taking an inventory."

and plans interesting social events. In order to do this in a most effective manner, all chapter officers should have the support of every active and retired member who can easily arrange to attend the meetings. Our Association is a group of veteran railroad employees who have been on the "railroad line" for more than 20 years, whose objectives are social and fraternal contact, and in which retired veteran employees, who are no longer "on the line" are particularly interested. But how many veteran employees, those with 20 or more years of continuous service, have not yet signed "on the dotted line"? It might be well to find them and in the words of the poet,

Having it handy, the veteran application,
Explaining the good times we enjoy through the year,
Be just a "live salesman", an added vacation.
Your product is worth it, you have nothing to fear.

On September 1st, after 49 years of service on the "Old Reliable" Erie, your Buffalo Chapter reporter has signed off from active service to enjoy a well-earned retirement. As a pleasant diversion, he will continue to keep you informed about the activities of our veteran members which will enable me to "fill in" my spare time, partially at least, while I will replace the engine throttle. Let me at this time thank all of my co-workers, officials and employees, for their friendship and consideration which I have keenly enjoyed during my many years of service. It hardly seems possible that I was "in the harness" for that period, but;

Time waits for no one, just hurries along,
You cannot persuade it by scripture or song.
There is no stopping the years in their flight,
We stand on the "sidelines" each day and each night.
And wonder and wonder just where it will end, so,
To my friends on the Erie best wishes I send.

"Sunny Jim" Fields, popular assistant yard master at East Buffalo, has been feeling like a "straw man" since his attack of hay fever. The last report we had from him is that he was about to pitch it over the fence.

It is rumored that Veteran Fred Adam is contemplating making application for the "Ball and Chain Gang." He has shown marked ability as a member of Buffalo Chapter's Finance Committee which makes him eligible to handle household finances. We await further details with eager interest.

Veterans James Dieter, main track hostler and his helper, Art Redanz, are hopeful that depression will soon end so that they can attend the afternoon meetings of "The Duperus Club."

It is with considerable difficulty that we have secured a photo of Chairman George Williams. He always declined. Ultimately, it was discovered that he did not wish to be "shot alone", being rather timid, and so different arrangements were made, as you may note from the photograph on page 18.

Every one attending the picnic at Geauga Lake Park on Aug. 20th thoroughly enjoyed themselves and voted the day a complete success. We wish to compliment Mrs. Edyth Thunhurst of Geauga Lake for her singing especially for the Veterans entertainment at the picnic. Mrs. Thunhurst is a former radio star, and lives at Geauga Lake.

May we extend the chapters greetings to the newly elected officers for next year, and wish them every success.

At the meeting at Erie Veterans and Ladies Auxiliary held Sept. 7 an invitation was received to attend the convention of the United Veterans' Association in Chicago next month. A number of veterans and ladies will attend. Make reservations with Secretary D. M. Ryan.

After the business meeting a social session was held, cards played and refreshments served. Awards were given to Mrs. Delta Boyle, Mrs. Catharine Pierce, Mrs. John Nary, Mrs. Anna McRae, John T. Nary, James H. Wyman, William Pierce, and E. F. Creagh. A dinner dance will be held Oct. 5. Dinner will be served at 6:30 by Cateress Mrs. Mary Bradley. All members should make reservations for dinner as early as possible. Miss Kathryn Kiley is in charge of arrangements.

It was a real pleasure to meet President Findlay, General Secretary John Ward, President-elect John Heaney, Asst. Gen. Secretary T. Y. Troiano, and Fred E. Burhardt at the annual election Sept. 2. We regret that their time was so limited Hornell Chapter could not be honored with their visit.

Veteran Engineer J. L. Collins retired from service Sept. 1 after over a half century as engineer on the Allegheny Division. "Jim" was general chairman of B. L. of E. for 12 years and is well known over the entire system. His multitude of friends wish him many pleasant years of rest and enjoyment.

Veteran Trainman F. T. Carpenter with 47 years service has also joined the growing ranks of retired men. Fred was popular with the traveling public, officials, and fellow employees, and all join in wishing him a long and pleasant vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wyman, Miss Jean Wyman and Billy Wyman, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Creagh and son Edward enjoyed a pleasant vacation at Waneta Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walch have closed their spacious cottage "Walch Roost" at Waneta Lake for the season and again taken up city life.

Veterans J. F. Gleason, C. G. Farnham, and Frank Green are on the sick list as well as Sisters Nellie Townsend and Hattie Carulio. We hope to see them with us again soon.

A picnic supper was enjoyed prior to the meeting of Meadville Chapter and Ladies Auxiliary which opened our fall and winter social season. All veteran employees who have not joined Meadville Chapter are invited to do so. Their ladies who are eligible for membership in the Ladies Auxiliary, are also invited to join. The cost is small and the benefits are many. Not long ago, a prominent Erie veteran and his good wife became members and we heard

BIDDING FAREWELL TO MASTER MECHANIC A. SUTHERBY

River, roundhouse foreman, Lorain; A. Krome, roundhouse foreman, New Castle; H. H. Holland, chief clerk, master mechanic's office, Cleveland; Charles Clements, second track engine dispatcher, Cleveland; Lee Everly, boiler foreman, Cleveland.

In the voluntary retirement, last Aug. 31st, of A. Sutherby, master mechanic in charge of the Erie Locomotive department, Mahoning division, with headquarters at Cleveland, after close to 45 years' service, the railroad loses another of its sturdy old-timers. Mr. Sutherby has been master mechanic for 20 years.

Mr. Sutherby was born in Huddersfield, county of Yorkshire, England, on March 7, 1869. He became apprenticed at the age of 15 in a millwright and engineer plant and after serving six full years, he received a diploma as a full-fledged mechanic at the age of 21.

Mr. Sutherby left England for America Feb. 11th, 1893, arrived at Hornell (then Hornellsville) Feb. 21st and entered the service of the Erie Feb. 23rd as machinist in the erecting shop under Foreman Singleton Thomas. Isaac Bond was master mechanic and Mr. Hamilton, who hired him, was general foreman. There were three gangs in the erecting shop, A, B and C, each with seven stalls and turning out in the aggregate between 25 and 30 general repairs per month.

Five years later, in July, 1898, Mr. Sutherby was promoted to gang foreman, in charge of Gang A, the late G. T. Depue being in charge of Gang C and J. J. Dewey had Gang B. His salary was $75 per month.

It was also at that time that Mr. Sutherby received his citizenship papers, application for which he had made soon after arriving in this country, and registered his first vote in America.

In September, 1905, he was transferred to Meadville shop as piece work inspector and checker, and in December of that year was made assistant to general foreman, Youngstown shop, under Master Mechanic G. T. Depue. On March 11, 1911, he was promoted to general foreman, Meadville, under T. J. Cote, master mechanic; July, 1915, transferred to Huntington as general foreman under Master Mechanic Yergens; July, 1917, transferred to general inspector to mechanical superintendent, C. James; March, 1918, promoted to assistant master mechanic, Mahoning division, with headquarters at Youngstown under F. Wallace, master mechanic; July, 1918, promoted to master mechanic, Mahoning division, with headquarters at Cleveland.

Mr. Sutherby made many friends during his long term of service who will miss his good counsel but who wish him many more years of happiness in retirement. He has taken up his residence at 334 Milton street, Alliance, O., in which city his second daughter, Theresa Mary, is in the employ of the Board of Education as supervisor of public school music and is also on the staff of Mt. Union College, Alliance, as instructor in public school music education, where she has been located for the past three years.

to remark, "If we had known what good times the members of Meadville Chapter and Auxiliary were having we would have become members long ago."

A special invitation is extended to all Erie veterans who have retired from active service. It has been noted that some have hobbies and others do not. Anyone who becomes a member of Meadville Chapter soon finds that he has a real hobby. It enables him to meet in a social way, many of the Old-Timers who helped to make interesting railroad history and their small annual payment for membership is one of the best investments they have ever made.

The many friends of Veteran Joe Bruttocher will be glad to learn that he is able to be up again after a long illness. Veteran R. B. Watson, of the test department, is also improving. Let us not forget to call on them when we are in their neighborhood.

Conductor John S. Madden passed away August 17th at Spencer Hospital, following an accident at Cambridge Springs. He was a member of the O. R. C., Holy Name Society, Knights of Columbus, Meadville Chapter, Erie Railroad Veterans and St. Bridget's Roman Catholic Church. Surviving are his widow, a daughter Monica and a son John at home; two brothers Jeremiah and James Madden and also two sisters, Miss Mary Madden and Mrs. John Hayes. Funeral services were held at St. Bridget's Roman Catholic church by the Rev. Joseph Kerin of St. Hippolytus church at Frenchtown celebrating high mass. The Rev. Joseph Seybolt, assistant pastor, spoke. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives and many beautiful floral pieces were banked about the casket. Burial was in Holy Cross R. C. cemetery at Jamestown. Bearers included Chester Wilbur, Charles White, Paul Donald and Bernard Hayes.

D. and Ed and J. E. Bunting. Services were held at Fleming's mortuary where many of his friends and relatives attended services. The B. of L. E. attended in a body and also the I. O. O. F. and Meadville Chapter, Erie Railroad Veterans. Burial was in Greendale cemetery. The following were bearers, W. B. Norton, W. L. Boggs, H. D. Seybolt, John Fix, H. R. Hughes and T. B. Hall, members of Meadville Chapter and of the B. of L. E. The sympathy of Meadville Chapter is extended to the bereaved families.

Masters, nephew of the bride, played the wedding march on bells. The bride's gown was white French organza. She carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and delphinium. A small wreath of rosebuds and small blue flowers were arranged in her hair. An informal reception followed. For traveling Mrs. Mitchell wore a costume suit of dusky rose with navy blue accessories. Upon their return from a motor trip in the east, they will make their home at their new residence, 970 Greenwood Ave. Mr. Mitchell is employed in the Akron offices as timekeeper. By R. H. Pauling, Secretary

Approximately 950 Erie Railroad employees and retired veterans and their families met at Lincoln Park, Marion, O., for a basket picnic Aug. 30th. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Randall, the former having been employed as general yardmaster at Marion, and now assistant general manager at Youngstown.

Among the veterans who were present was B. O'Connor, 84, of Huntington, Ind., and J. J. Daze, 81, of Marion, both retired engineers, who with Charles Hammond, 78, and J. Brumbaugh, 74, of Huntington, completed a quartet of the oldest Erie men at the picnic.

A. W. Baker, superintendent, was honorary chairman of the committee on arrangements, C. A. Crim, freight agent, Marion, acting as general chairman.

The program of contests and sports began with the children's contests in charge of Veteran George F. Colflesh who acted as chairman for the committee. The ball throwing contest for boys and girls, 5 to 16 years of age, was won by Miss Theresa Gandert and Charles Lewis; peanut race for boys and girls, 5 to 9, by Miss Melba Joan Blair and Robert Thomas; relay race for boys and girls, 5 to 16, by Miss Arleen Hill and Barbara Jean Aukerman, and Thomas Mason and Charles Lewis and the fifty-yard dash boys and girls, age 12 to 16, by Miss Joan Schell and Don Moran.

J. C. Mann, division claim agent, was chairman of the committee on contests for ladies. In the bean guessing contest the first prize was won by Mrs. Pearl Pangborn, second by Mrs. W. S. McNeil and third by Mrs. A. Kinler. Mrs. Pangborn guessed within twelve, the number of beans in the jar.

In the softball throwing contest for ladies, first prize was won by Mrs. Harry Williams for throwing the ball a distance of 117 feet, and the second prize by Miss Betty Arndt who threw the ball 114 feet.

M. G. McInnes, trainmaster was chairman of the committee for contests for men. In the softball game between teams from the transportation and mechanical departments, which game had to be called before completion for supper, the transportation department was in the lead and received the prize. The tug of war between mechanical and maintenance of way department employes was won by the mechanical department. Twenty teams under Chairman R. R. Titus pitched horse shoes from 4:00 P.M. to 8:00 P.M., and in the finals the first prize was won by H. F. Dilsaver and Joe Darnell, and second prize by J. W. Strawser and L. Lattimore. In the spike driving contest the first prize was won by Carl Huffman.

During the supper hour music was furnished by a "Little German Band" composed of boys from the Harding High School, Marion.

The refreshment committee was in charge of W. H. Pohler, yardmaster and this committee dispensed lemonade during the afternoon and served coffee and ice cream bars at the supper.

Leo A. Keller, yardmaster, Marion, chairman of the Marion Chapter of the Erie Railroad Veterans' Association, was chairman of the committee on arrangements.

During the picnic, one of Marion's leading florists sent a basket of beautiful red roses to be presented to the oldest veteran present, but as Mr. O'Connor had left the grounds the tribute was presented to J. J. Daze, the next oldest in attendance.

The Red Cross First Aid tent was furnished by the Marion Red Cross Chapter and was in charge of Miss Marie Johnson and Ted Grubaugh. Their services, however, were not required.

This was the first annual picnic held by Erie employees since 1923. The weather was ideal and the outing so thoroughly enjoyed that it has been decided to make this an annual event and plans are already being formulated for the 1939 picnic.

A. R. Tennis, division freight agent, awarded the prizes.

50 YEARS SERVICE WINS PRAISES

Fifty Years of continuous service with the Erie by J. N. Brundage, assistant freight claim agent of the Erie at Cleveland completed Aug. 31st last, was acknowledged by his associates in prose, poetry and gifts at a testimonial dinner on Sept. 17. They gave him an inscribed wrist watch, a fountain pen and pencil, and A. E. Pasman, freight claim agent, who made the presentation expressed the congratulations of all by remarking that 50 years service is reached by comparatively few and 50 years of uninterrupted service by still fewer.

"Such service," Mr. Pasman said, "is only attained by faithful and loyal attention to the best interests of your employer and results in the confidence of your subordinates who rely on your fairness and justice. As a mark of their love and affection they desire that it be represented in something more than words, something that may remain with you as long as you live, which we all hope may be many happy years. Each tick of the watch is but the emphasis of our wish for your health and happiness."

At a dinner in the evening, Mr. Brundage was cheered by the presence of his sons, Charles and Curtis and by old friends from near and far. Edward J. Roach was toastmaster and introduced speakers who paid further tribute to the honored guest's fine qualities. E. E. Seise, office manager for the operating department, read a message of congratulation from Vice President Woodruff. A telegramgram was received from another son, Howard, in Scotland, a telegram from the Hon. Bernard Degnan, Mayor of West Orange, N. J., and a letter from the General office chapter of the Erie Veterans. Frank V. Kelley was in charge of the arrangements. Verses written by T. J. Kerrigan, former associate, were read. They ran:

J. N. B. AS I KNEW HIM

I was just an office monkey back in Nineteen Hundred Eight,
And a thirty dollar stipend was the best that I could rate.
But, somehow, I felt contented, and the world seemed serene
When I labored for the Erie down in good old Bowling Green.

I recall the day I started, and the man I was to see
Was the chief clerk, Mr. Brundage, known to all as J. N. B.
I recall the desk he sat at, flat on top, and big and wide;
Where he held forth every day with Sammy Atkins by his side.

I had always found him friendly, glad to help a chap along;
Glad to straighten out your troubles, set you right when you were wrong.
Never known to play to favorites, treating every one the same;
Glad to welcome new suggestions, taking them from whence they came.

When I left the Erie office, I received some good advice,
Given me by Mr. Brundage, on the future and its price.
I oft times recall the memory of those days that used to be,
Of my days spent with the Erie, supervised by J. N. B.
ERIE Can Move It!

Here's a complete refinery on wheels—rolling to its permanent home via Erie. Tons of equipment 8 stories tall—and so bulky that many railroads could not handle it.

These extra big loads can be moved safely, speedily, because of Erie's higher, wider clearances. Special equipment all along the line also assures faster handling of unusual freight. That's why shippers call Erie "The Heavy Duty Railroad". Why they trust Erie with their biggest loads.

But Erie's more than a heavy duty road. It's a railroad that offers faster, safer, more economical delivery—whenever or wherever you ship. Get the proof! Call the local Erie agent on your next shipment!

Our plant has adequate capacity to produce with speed and efficiency, the largest orders for complete sets and parts of the different types of air brakes for today's trains. Fannie Read Auction

War, the old structure was a famous caravanserai for travelers. Darwin Read, who lived in the house until his death nearly 20 years ago, viewed from its front porch the passing of the first regular New York and Erie train on Dec. 27, 1848. His father, Riley Read, lifted him up over the heads of the crowd of bewildered settlers assembled to view the biggest event in the history of the Delaware valley.

Weather beaten and untenant since Fannie's death cedulous ones imagined they heard ghost-like noises within the old barn-like structure and children hurried past it after dark.

Among the odd assortment of articles offered at the auction was an old Dunlap spinet which Miss Read used to play as a girl. It was bid in for $300 by Charles Read, who with his brother, Judge Howard M. Read, are the last male members of the family and owners of the hotel. Charles Read was in charge of the sale and his daughter, Louise Read, acted as clerk. The auction was managed by Mabel Perry Smith of Johnson City with R. W. Roane of Hephburnville, Pa., as auctioneer. In addition to the bedroom furnishings, there were dresses of half a century ago and dolls which belonged to Miss Read which brought a few dollars. There was spirited bidding for one of Miss Read's dolls which went for $18. Paintings, said to be by George Inmiss were not sold. About $2,000 was realized from the sale.
